Patent Interference Practice Burden of Proof

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending its rules of practice in patent interference cases. The amended rules specify that a party filing a motion has the burden of proof for that motion. The amended rules also more clearly state the nature of expert-witness and fact-witness evidence that must accompany a preliminary motion. Moreover, a definition of "interlocutory order," as contrasted with a final decision, is added to clarify the meaning of "interlocutory order."
Effective Date: Oct. 25, 1993. These rules will apply to all papers filed with the PTO on or after the effective date.
For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 305-9035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: A Notice of Proposed Rulemaking was published in the Federal Register (58 FR 528) on Jan. 6, 1993, and in the Official Gazette of the PTO (1147 Off. Gaz. 11) on Feb. 2, 1993. Comments were due Mar. 8, 1993. Four comments were received.

The PTO proposed moving the presumption of correctness of an interlocutory order, which is presently in 37 CFR §1.655(a), to a proposed new subsection 1.601(q). The PTO also proposed to make explicit in 37 CFR §1.637(a) that a party filing a motion has the burden of proving why it is entitled to the relief sought in the motion.

The PTO proposed to amend 37 CFR §1.639 to incorporate guidance provided in Hanagan v. Kimura, 16 USPQ2d 1791, 1794 (Comm'r Pat. 1990). Subsection (c) of §1.639 was proposed to be amended to refer to "additional evidence in the form of testimony" so as to distinguish the evidence needed under subsection (c) from evidence submitted under subsections (a) and (b). Subsection (d) to 37 CFR §1.639 was proposed to be added to specify that the nature of evidence that must be submitted when an opinion of an expert is needed. Subsection (e) was proposed to be added to specify the nature of evidence that must be submitted when a statement of a fact witness is to be relied upon. Subsection (f) was proposed to be added to specify the nature of a showing that should be made when a statement of an opponent is needed or evidence in possession of an opponent is needed. Subsection (g) was proposed to be added to specify the nature of evidence that must be supplied if inter partes tests are to be conducted.

Present 37 CFR 1.655(a) was proposed to be amended by deleting the last sentence, which would be moved to and be included in the proposed definition of interlocutory order in proposed subsection 1.601(g).

The PTO received one comment that endorsed the proposed rulemaking, but was otherwise directed to an earlier rulemaking.

The PTO received two comments regarding proposed subsection 1.601(q). One comment suggested that procedural rules should not be placed in a definition. The comment suggested that the last two sentences of proposed subsection 1.601(q), which deal with the presumed correctness of interlocutory orders, be in a new subsection of section 1.655. This suggestion is adopted in part. The last two sentences of subsection 1.601(q) will be moved to the end of subsection 1.655(a).

A second comment challenged the sufficiency of the notice in the proposed rulemaking. The comment noted that the word "manifest" was omitted from the portion of existing subsection 1.655(a) that was moved to new subsection 1.601(q) and that the word "manifestly" was omitted from the remainder of subsection 1.655(a). The comment argued that the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking did not provide sufficient notice of these omissions, which the comment characterized as substantive changes, and thus violates the requirements of 5 U.S.C. §553. This comment is not adopted.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking gave specific notice of the actual terms of the proposed rule. Cf. §553(b) (requiring "[g]eneral notice" of "either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved.") In any case, no change actually occurs because the omitted words, "manifest" and "manifestly", in 37 CFR §1.655(a) are unnecessary. No board decision is known to have relied on the distinction between "error", "clear error", and "manifest error". In appellate courts, manifest error is an extremely deferential standard of review that is closely tied to the abuse-of-discretion standard. See e.g., Datascope Corp. v. SMEC, Inc., 879 F.2d 820, 827-28, 11 USPQ2d 1321, 1326 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (finding no manifest error). Board review of an examiner-in-chief's interlocutory orders is not an independent review of a final decision by a lower tribunal. The board is the only entity that may decide interferences, 35 U.S.C. §135(a), and the examiner-in-chief, who is a member of the board, 35 U.S.C. §7(a), is almost always a member of the panel that ultimately decides the interference. Thus, an extremely deferential standard of appeal in this context is inappropriate.

The PTO received one comment regarding proposed subsection 1.637(a). The comment noted that subsection 1.637(a) had been misprinted so that the text "a statement of the precise relief requested, (2)" had been omitted following the "(1)". The comment is correct, the omission was a misprint, and the omitted text has been restored.

The PTO received one comment regarding 37 CFR §1.639(b). The comment suggested that all proofs introduced under subsection 1.639(b) remain in the record after the decision on the preliminary motions unless the proofs are expressly withdrawn. The opposing party could treat such proofs as subsection 1.672(b) declarations and request an opportunity to cross examine the declarants. The suggestion is not adopted because it is beyond the scope of the present rulemaking.

The PTO received one comment regarding subsection 1.639(c). The comment assumed that the word "needed" had been intentionally deleted from the end of the first sentence of subsection 1.639(c), but noted that the deletion was not mentioned in the summary. The assumption is correct. This deletion is grammatically required after the addition of the text amending subsection 1.639(c).

The PTO received two comments regarding codification of the Hanagan guidelines in subsections 1.639(d)-(g). One comment endorsed codification of the Hanagan guidelines, but suggested that the codification be reformulated to increase flexibility. In particular, the comment pointed to the unusual case described in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking where an opponent to a preliminary motion was overwhelmed with evidence. The comment suggested that the mandatory requirements of subsection 1.639, as amended, be revised to state that the information required under the Hanagan guidelines "should ordinarily" be provided. The comment is not adopted.

When necessary, a party opposing a preliminary motion should request an extension of time to submit the information described in subsections 1.639(d) through (g), which do not require the submission of the actual testimony or evidence. In contrast, in the example discussed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the examiner-in-chief deferred consideration of the preliminary motion until the final hearing to allow the opponent time to prepare a full opposition, which included the actual evidence the opponent relied upon to support the opposition. As the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking pointed out, examiners-in-chief have, and should exercise, discretion to extend time or otherwise remedy problems that may arise when applying the requirements of section 1.639 in specific cases.

A second comment suggested that the requirements of subsections 1.639(d) and (e) duplicate the declarations submitted under 37 CFR §1.672(b). The comment recommends that the rules be revised to require a subsection 1.672(b) declaration be submitted once, during the motions period, in support of an opposition to a preliminary motion. The recommendation is not adopted.

Subsection 1.672(b) is directed to the technical requirements for submitting affidavits or depositions for testimony that will not be compelled. Subsection 1.639(c), which invokes the requirements of subsections 1.639(d) and (e), requires a description of the proposed testimony, not an affidavit or deposition of the testimony itself. A request under subsection 1.639(c) must describe the nature of the testimony being sought so the examiner-in-chief can determine whether the testimony is actually needed. Hanagan, 16 USPQ2d at 1794. Subsection 1.639(c) is intended to address the situation where evidence in the form of testimony is not available to the party asserting a need for the evidence. The Hanagan guidelines require such a party to justify the delay and inconvenience that may result by explaining what the party expects the testimony to prove. To this end, subsection 1.639(c) is revised to clarify that it only applies to testimony that is unavailable to the party seeking the testimony.

OTHER CONSIDERATION

The rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C.601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that these rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principle impact of these changes would be to clarify procedure in patent interferences and thereby eliminate ambiguity that may exist in current rules.

The Office has determined that these rule changes are not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers; individuals; industries; Federal, state or local government agencies; or geographic regions. There will be no significant effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of the United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Office has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

These rule changes will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no recordkeeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

If the examiner-in-chief finds that testimony is needed to decide the motion, the examiner-in-chief finds that testimony is needed to decide the motion, the examiner-in-chief may grant appropriate interlocutory relief and enter an order authorizing the taking of testimony and deferring a decision on the motion to final hearing.

The Board may also consider whether any interlocutory order was erroneous or an abuse of discretion. All interlocutory orders shall be presumed to have been correct and the burden of showing error or an abuse of discretion shall be on the party attacking the order. When two or more interlocutory orders involve the same issue, the last entered order shall be presumed to have been correct.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PDTLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U. S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant patents on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that prelminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.
